Vocabulary in Guardian Article:

Euro 2016: dozens arrested in Lille ...

Definitions from Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary

https://www.theguardian.com/football/2016/jun/15/england-and-russia-fans-brawl-in-lille-at-euro-2016

clamp down on sth phrasal verb to take strong action to stop or limit a harmful or unwanted activity The government is clamping down on teenage drinking.

counterpart noun [C] a person or thing which has the same purpose as another one in a different place or organization

The Prime Minister is to meet his European counterparts to discuss the war against drugs.

echo noun [C] plural echoes SIMILAR DETAIL

2. a detail that is similar to and makes you remember something else There are echoes of Mozart in her first piano compositions.

enable verb[T]

to make someone able to do something, or to make something possible [+ to infinitive] Computerization should enable us to cut production costs by half.

flare verb GET WORSE

2. [I] (ALSO flare up) When something bad such as violence, pain or anger flares (up), it suddenly starts or gets much worse

Violence flared up again last night.

Tempers flared after a three-hour delay at Gatwick Airport yesterday.

flare noun BRIGHTNESS

1. [C] a sudden increase in the brightness of a fire

There was a sudden flare when she threw the petrol onto the fire.

2. [C] a very bright light or coloured smoke which can be used as a signal, or a device which produces this

We set off a flare to help guide our rescuers.

hang back phrasal verb

to be slow to do something, often because of fear or having no confidence There's no need to hang back - you can sing as well as anyone.

head off phrasal verb

to start a journey or leave a place What time are you heading off?

hooligan noun [C] a person who acts in a violent way without thinking and causes damage Hooligans had sprayed paint all over the car.

in hot pursuit

following someone closely, trying hard to catch them The gang drove off, with the police in hot pursuit.

hurl verb [T]

1. to throw something with a lot of force, usually in an angry or violent way In a fit of temper he hurled the book across the room.

Youths hurled stones at the soldiers.

2. hurl abuse/insults, etc. at sb

to shout insults or rude language at someone angrily

I wasn't going to stand there while he hurled abuse at me!

knack noun[S]

a skill or an ability to do something easily and well

a knack for remembering faces

She has the knack of mak ing people feel comfortable.

There's a knack to us ing this corkscrew.

mar verb[T]-rr- SLIGHTLY FORMAL to spoil something, making it less perfect or less enjoyable

Sadly, the text is marred by careless errors.

It was a really nice day, marred only by a little argument in the car on the way home.

I hope the fact that Louise isn't coming won't mar your enjoyment of the evening.

propeller noun [C] (INFORMAL prop)

a device which causes a ship or aircraft to move, consisting of two or more blades which turn round at high speed

quell /kwel/ verb [T]

to stop something, especially by using force

Police in riot gear were called in to guell the disturbances/unrest.

This latest setback will have done nothing to quell the growing doubts about the future of the club.

roam verb [I + adv/prep T]

to move about or travel, especially without a clear idea of what you are going to do After the pubs close, gangs of youths roam the city streets.

She roamed around America for a year, working in bars and restaurants.

skirmish noun [C]

1. a fight between a small number of soldiers which is usually short and not planned, and which happens away from the main area of fighting in a war

2. a short argument or fight

There was a short skirmish between the political party leaders when the government announced it was to raise taxes.

urge verb [I or T]

to strongly advise or try to persuade someone to do a particular thing

[+ to infinitive] Lawyers will urge the parents to take further legal action.

[+ that] Investigators urged that safety procedures at the site should be improved.

Police urged continued vigilance in the fight against crime.

The dogs are urged into fighting more fiercely by loud shouts from the crowd.

We shall continue to urge for leniency to be shown to these prisoners.